Your Rights and Protections Against Surprise Medical Bills

When you get emergency care or are treated by an out-of-network provider at an in-network facility, you are protected from balance billing. In these cases, you shouldn't be charged more than your plan's copayments, coinsurance and/or deductible.

What is "balance billing" (sometimes called "surprise billing")?

When you see a doctor or other health care provider, you may owe certain out-of-pocket costs, like a copayment, coinsurance, or a deductible. You may have additional costs or have to pay the entire bill if you see a provider or visit a health care facility that isn't in your health plan's network.

"Out-of-network" means providers and facilities that haven't gned contract with your health plan to provide services. Out-of-network providers may be allow. to bill you for the difference between what your plan pays, and the full amount charged for a sarvice. This is called "balance billing." This amount is likely more than in-network costs are the same service and might not count toward your plan's deductible or annual out-of-portion at it.

"Surprise billing" is an unexpected balance 'ill. it is can happen when you can't control who is involved in your care—like when you have a merg ncy or when you schedule a visit at an innetwork facility but are unexpectedly treated by an out-of-network provider. Surprise medical bills could cost thousands of dollars depend a the procedure or service.

Insurers are required to tell you thich providers and facilities are in their networks. Providers and facilities must tell you with which provider networks they participate. This information is on the insurer's, provider's or facility's weakite or on request.

You're protected from balance silling for:

Emergency services

If you have an emergency medical condition and get emergency services from an out-of- network provider or facility, the most they can bill you is your plan's in- network cost-sharing amount (such as deductibles, copayments and coinsurance). You can't be balance billed for these emergency services. This includes services at the same facility that you may get after you're in stable condition, unless you give written consent and give up your protections not to be balanced billed for these post-stabilization services.

Certain services at an in-network facility

When you get services from an in-network facility, certain providers there may be out-of- network. In these cases, the most those providers can bill you is your plan's in-network cost- sharing amount. This applies to emergency medicine, laboratory, surgeon and assistant surgeon services, and professional ancillary services such as anesthesia, pathology, radiology, neonatology, hospitalist, or intensivist services. These providers can't balance bill you and can't ask you to give up your protections not to be balance billed.

If you receive other types of services at these in-network facilities, out-of-network providers can't balance bill you unless you give written consent and give up your protections.

You're never required to give up your protections from balance billing. You also aren't required to get out-of-network care. You can choose a provider or facility in your plan's network.

When balance billing isn't allowed, you also have these protections:

- You're only responsible for paying your share of the cost (like the collapse) and deductible that you would pay if the provider or facility was a setwork. Your health plan will pay any additional costs to out-of-network providers and facilities line by.
- Generally, your health plan must:
  - O Cover emergency services without requiring you to get approval for services in advance (also known as "prior authorization."
  - O Cover emergency services Land to the order of the order
  - O Base what you owe he rovide. or facility (cost-sharing) on what it would pay an innetwork provider or facility and show that amount in your explanation of benefits.
  - O Count any mour , up y for emergency services or out-of-network services toward your in-network deductible and in-network out-of-pocket limit.
