

Build Preference – Cardiac Care - Sarma – Kaiser Permanente

Speaker: Srinivas Sarma, MD, Cardiovascular Surgeon and Intensivist, Kaiser Permanente -

Doctors that take care of patients in the primary care setting are totally attuned to everything that goes into good cardiovascular preventative care. When patients need more specialized care, the referral process is streamlined. There's a record that follows the patient, and everyone knows what is happening to that patient and where they have been and where they're going.

I think the degree of integrated care that we have for our cardiovascular service line is second to nobody.
