

Kaiser Permanente – Integrated Care

When people talk about Kaiser Permanente, they often mention, “Integrated Health Care”. But what does that mean? And what can it do for you?

“We have it all together,” is one way to explain integrated care. We bring together doctors, nurses, pharmacists and specialists with care and coverage and weave it into one integrated system. And by doing so, we increase convenience, save our members time and money, and provide some of the best care around.

Consider our integrated medical offices. In most of them, you can see your doctor, get an x-ray, have your blood drawn, and even pick up a prescription. All in one visit. All in one location.

Or if you want to save a trip to the doctor’s office, you can connect with a Kaiser Permanente provider by phone, email or video. We make it easy, affordable and convenient!

Our integrated health care system is a fundamental part of the Kaiser Permanente experience and is offered to all our members. It allows us to give a level of quality, coordination, and convenience that other providers just can’t match.

At Kaiser Permanente we’re committed to giving you affordable, high-quality care.
