

Talking with Your Agent

What I did was I said I have something important I want to talk to you about can we find the time?

Because the person I chose was my daughter. If we don't put it in our calendars to do it and set aside some time in some private time will always be interrupted and we'll be talking about other things.

And I said I want you to be the person that makes decisions for me when I'm unable to make them for myself, will you do that?

And then I said, you don't actually have to answer now you can think about it but topic actually started years and years and years ago when my father was dying that's when it became really urgent and more earnest nice we spoken in earnest and so I think it was a conversation made easier because we had talked about it in little steps again in different formats and then use and and so when it came up it wasn't such a biggie.
