

Who did you Select to be Your Agent

For me it was easy. My wife and I have been together over 30 years. We, she knows me better than anybody. She loves me more than anybody. She's also better equipped to deal with stress and problems and issues that we have in our life than anybody. And I would have absolute trust.

My agents were chosen based on proximity and my knowledge of their ability and well what I think would be their ability to follow my wishes.

I chose my son and it was probably out of default because he's an only child.

I've had some time and opportunity to rethink that because it's such a huge responsibility and my reasoning was that I'm making this burden less by putting my wishes in writing and I'm constantly rethinking that.

And if need be I will change my designation but in this case my son was the only one and he does know me very well and he does know my wishes.
